

ROBINSON CENTER ONLINE W ACADEMIC COMPOSITION

FOR DECADES NOW, THE ROBINSON CENTER AT THE UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON HAS SUPPORTED ADVANCED AND ACCELERATED LEARNERS WITH INNOVATIVE CURRICULUM AND PROGRAMS. WITH OUR RC ONLINE COURSES, WE ARE EXCITED TO OFFER THIS CURRICULUM TO A WIDER AUDIENCE!

ACADEMIC COMPOSITION: SUMMER 2019

WHAT: This course offers a rigorous introduction to college-level academic writing, with an emphasis on disciplinary difference and argumentation. Doubling as an intro to university-level inquiry, this class has been used for 10 years to prepare RC students for early college entrance, and is a proven model for challenging and inspiring students who want to take their thinking to the next level.

WHEN: The course runs from June 24th to September 1st. It is fully online, and students will have the option to interact with the online lessons, readings, and activities at the times of their choosing, with multiple deadlines for assignments and peer reviews every week. Students should plan to devote 10-15 hours a week to the work of this course.

WHO: This course is intended for students in grades 10-12 who are looking for more challenge and depth in their writing instruction. Because of the online format and the focus on student-driven inquiry, students who enroll in this course need to be independently-motivated and prepared to engage the course with their own interests and questions.

ENROLL NOW!

- To apply for the course, visit robinsoncenter.uw.edu and start an application!
- Financial Aid is available!
- To learn more about the course, read our program description on our website or email us at rcys@uw.edu.