

UW Academy

Early Entrance Program

UW Robinson Center for Young Scholars

The mission of the Halbert and Nancy Robinson Center for Young Scholars (RC) at the University of Washington is threefold: teaching, research, and service. The RC is a leader in the nation for developing programs that serve highly capable young pre-college and college students. We are committed to increasing access and fostering student potential among students historically marginalized and excluded from advanced learning opportunities.

What is UW Academy?

UW Academy is an early admission opportunity at the University of Washington for current 10th-grade students. Students apply to the program during their 10th-grade year, and if accepted, withdraw from high school, enrolling as freshmen at the University of Washington the following fall. At the Robinson Center, Academy students find a community of like-minded peers and an experienced staff who can help them to make the most of their time at the UW, with access to personalized advising services, student programming, and a robust alumni network.
